TABLE OF CONTENTS

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Educational Planning for Socially Disadvantaged Children and Youth
Page 203

Section 1. Identifying Needs and Characteristics

1. Who Are the Socially Disadvantaged?
   Robert Havighurst, Professor of Education, University of Chicago
   Page 210

2. Problems of Disadvantaged Youth, Urban and Rural
   Walter C. Daniel, Professor of Education, Howard University
   Page 218

3. The Overlooked Positives of Disadvantaged Groups
   Frank Riessman, Psychologist, Mobilization for Youth, Inc.
   Page 225

4. Social and Psychological Perspectives on the Development of the Disadvantaged Learner
   Martin Deutsch, Director, Institute for Developmental Studies, Department of Psychiatry, New York Medical College
   Page 232

5. How an Urban School System Identifies Its Disadvantaged
   Harold Spears, Superintendent, San Francisco Unified School District, and Isadore Pivnick, Director, School-Community Improvement Program, San Francisco Unified School District
   Page 245

Section 2. Specific Areas of Emphasis Necessary to Effective Planning

6. Organizing Instruction and Curriculum Planning for the Socially Disadvantaged
   Orville Johnson, Professor of Education, Syracuse University
   Page 254

7. Planning for the Language Development of Disadvantaged Children and Youth
   Eunice Shaed Newton, Associate Professor of Education, Howard University
   Page 264

8. The Preparation of Disadvantaged Youth for Employment and Civic Responsibilities
   Jane Perry, Chief, Branch of Program Development and Special Studies, Bureau of Labor Standards, U. S. Department of Labor
   Page 275

9. Guidance and Counseling
   Harold J. Reed, Specialist, Career Development, U. S. Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare
   Page 282
Chapter  X. Educational Planning for Disadvantaged College Youth
Otis D. Froel, Director, Research and Evaluation, Morgan State College

Section 3. Factors Influencing Effective Planning

XI. School and Community Roles in Effective Planning
Carl L. Marburger, Divisional Director, Curriculum Studies, Detroit Public Schools

XII. The Role of Parents and Family Life
Gordon P. Ledoux, Associate Director, Inter-Professional Research Commission on Pupil Personnel Services, University of Maryland, and Robert E. Rockwell, Chief Consultant, Quincy Youth Development Commission, Quincy, Illinois

XIII. The Responsibilities of Teachers and School Administrators
Jacob Landers, Assistant Superintendent, Board of Education of the City of New York

XIV. Evaluation as a Factor in Planning Programs for the Culturally-Disadvantaged
Daniel C. Thompson, Professor of Sociology, Howard University

Section 4. Evaluation of the Yearbook

XV. A Critical Evaluation of the Yearbook, 1964
Goodwin Watson, Professor Emeritus of Social Psychology and Education, Columbia University; Distinguished Service Professor, Newark State College

Section 5. Research and Bibliography

XVI. Prevailing and Needed Emphases in Research on the Education of Disadvantaged Children and Youth
Doxey A. Wilkerson, Lecturer and Senior Research Associate, Graduate School of Education, Yeshiva University

Bibliography on the Education of Soctially Disadvantaged Children and Youth
Doxey A. Wilkerson