

Table of Contents

Guest Editorial

- Implications of the Absence of Black Teachers/Administrators
on Black Youth123
Constance Carter Cooper

Articles

- The Brown Decision: Racism, Education, and Human Values125
Kenneth B. Clark
- The Inner-City Child: Black America's Next Challenge133
Roger Wilkins
- Implicit Assumptions of the Holmes and Carnegie Reports:
A View from an African-American Perspective141
Beverly M. Gordon
- Structuring the Teaching Force: Will Minority Teachers
Suffer?159
Bernard Oliver
- Maintaining the Pipeline of Black Teachers for the Twenty-first Century166
A. Wade Smith
- Tomorrow's White Teachers: A Response to the Holmes
Group178
G. Pritchey Smith
- Recruiting and Retaining Minority Teachers195
Reginald Wilson
- A Continuing Critique of the Holmes Group199
Mary E. Dilworth
- The Effectiveness of Teacher-Training Programs at Predominantly White and Black Institutions202
Lawrence H. Cross

Black High School Students' Images of Forestry as a Profession	208
Earl C. Leatherberry and J. Douglas Wellman

Reviews

The Color Line and the Quality of Life in America , by Reynolds Farley and Walter R. Allen	220
James F. Scott

The New Black Middle Class , by Bart Landry	221
Charles A. Asbury

The Truly Disadvantaged: The Inner City, the Underclass, and Public Policy , by William Julius Wilson	222
Bernard C. Watson

In Pursuit of Equality in Higher Education , ed. Anne S. Pruitt	224
Kenneth S. Tollett

Children in Need: Investment Strategies for the Educationally Disadvantaged , by The Committee for Economic Development	226
Paul-Albert N. Emoungu

Correction and Announcement	229
--	------------

Cover: Photograph by Dr. Frederick D. Harper, School of Education, Howard University.