Table of Contents

Looking Beyond the Digital Divide: Participation and Opportunities with Technology in Education
(Guest Editors: Kevin A. Clark and Joi L. Moore)

Introduction and Overview
Kevin A. Clark and Joi L. Moore .......................................................... 1

Part 1: Professional Development
Embracing Technology in the Secondary School Curriculum: The Status in Two Eastern Caribbean Countries .......................................................... 5
Karleen A. Mason

An Exploratory Study of Online Postsecondary Education for Low-Income Working Adults: A View from Education Support Programs .......................................................... 17
Angela D. Benson

Part 2: Innovative Tools
The Identity and Success Life Story Method: A New Paradigm for Digital Inclusion .......................................................... 31
Cynthia E. Winston, Cheri L. Philip, and Derek L. Lloyd

Clover: Narratives and Simulations in Virtual Environments .......................................................... 43
Sharon Tettegah, Brian P. Bailey, and Kona Taylor

Part 3: Integrating Culture
Understanding the Complex Dimensions of the Digital Divide: Lessons Learned in the Alaskan Arctic .......................................................... 57
Deepak Prem Subramony

Conductors of the Digitized Underground Railroad: Black Teachers Empower Pedagogies with Computer Technology .......................................................... 68
Rona M. Frederick

Black Youth Employ African American Vernacular English in Creating Digital Texts .......................................................... 80
Darryl Ted Hall and James Damico

Book/Media Reviews

(Malcolm B. Butler)

Star Teachers: The Ideology and Best Practices of Effective Teachers of Diverse Children and Youth in Poverty, by Martin Haberman .......................................................... 90 (Sueanne E. McKinney)

Black and Brown: Race, Ethnicity, and School Preparation, by William A. Sampson .......................................................... 91
(Leona M. Johnson)

Cover: Photograph of the Howard University School of Business Simulation, Learning & Research Laboratory. Copyright © 2007 by Howard University Office of University Communications.